

PAHT makes local community donations

The Pelorus Area Health Trust charity shop in Havelock has had a very busy year. The installation of an Eftpos machine, the re-branding of the shop, and the hard work of the group of volunteers who run it, have seen the shop do well this financial year.

PAHT is all about local solutions for local problems in the area of health and wellbeing of our community. As such the Board have made 2 one-off donations to local organisations in June.

Marlborough Hospice and the Farewell Trust each received $4000 on Tuesday the 25th June at the Havelock Charity Shop. Presentations were made by the co-Vice-Chairs of PAHT (Mo Leggatt and Glenda Davies) to Sarah Carberry of the Farewell Trust and Sandy Inwood from Marlborough Hospice.

From left to right-Mo Leggatt presenting the cheque to Sarah Carberry. Bev Foote (Charity Shop volunteer). Glenda Davies presenting to Sandy Inwood. Trish Brown (Charity Shop Volunteer)

Both organisations do an amazing job for the dying in our community. The Farewell Trust works tirelessly to assist the families of those who choose to die at home, often in remote places in the Marlborough Sounds. It means hard work, travelling long distances and providing sensitive and difficult care, for very little recompense. They are supported by Hospice Marlborough, who also owe their accomplishments to hard working volunteers.

In Volunteers Week in NZ it seemed appropriate that money raised by hard-working volunteers in Havelock is donated to other hard-working volunteers in the Pelorus community.

Local Solutions for Local Problems